Carbo Boost Gel

Delays the onset of fatigue

- 50 g carbohydrates/gel

- BCAA 2:1:1

- Vegan and gluten free

Carbo Boost Gel is the ideal combination of complex and simple carbohydrates and amino acids in gel format. Thanks to its complete formula, it provides all the necessary energy for extended physical exercises in addition to reduce cramps and compensate in an immediate way the loss of electrolytes.

In its formula we can highlight the following:

- Mix of complex carbohydrates: maltodextrin, isomaltulose (Palatinosa®) y cyclodextrin (Cluster Dextrin®). Thanks to complex carbohydrates we obtain the necessary energy for the training in a controlled and prolonged way. They release their monosaccharides (sugar) in a slow way and progressively generate a glycaemic increase, which enables the energy to be extended during a longer period of time.
- Simple carbohydrates: dextrose and fructose. The simple carbohydrates are quickly digested and absorbed in the bowel, which enables to gain energy in a fast way. In addition, they are widely used by professional athletes as regenerating agents for muscles, tendons y ligaments.
- Branched-chain amino acids (BCAAs): these are essential amino acids which are indispensable for muscle growth and recovery, providing the necessary energy to muscles in a situation of intense exercises. They also help to fight against the feeling of tiredness and fatigue.
- Sodium: We must highlight the importance of including sodium in the formula of carbohydrate gels, given that they improve the rehydration and provide a better balance of body fluids, contributing to maintaining plasma osmolarity. In addition, the sodium improves the mechanism of co-transport of the glucose molecule at the bowel level, increasing the speed of absorption.

Therefore, with Carbo Boost Gel, we obtain the perfect formula for those who seek quick and long-lasting energy for extended physical exercises.

The gels are presented in an ergonomic container designed expressly for athletes for its perfect transport and usage. In addition, this product is available in three different flavours so to meet everyone's taste: neutral, green apple and coffee. These gels are gluten free and suitable for vegan as well as vegetarian consumers.
