WEIDER

DAILY ENERGY Strengthen inside and out!

These ingredients are an ideal combination for those who, due to their high pace of life, both physical and psychological, may have increased nutritional requirements and require an extra vitamin and mineral supplement to help avoid deficiencies.

Daily Energy supports the following functions in the body, thanks to its content of vitamins of group B, C, D and minerals such as zinc:

- Contributes to the functioning of the immune system.
- Helps reduce tiredness and fatigue.
- Normal muscle and bone function.
- Contributes to normal cognitive function.
- Contributes to macronutrient metabolism.
- Contributes to the protection of cells against oxidative damage.

For Weider, quality is one of its fundamental principles. Only by using the best raw materials and having proper control, can you obtain the best products.
